Premier Aquith Definitely Refuses to Disclose Concessions to Be Offered Usher

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT SUPPLICATE FOR TRUCE

Nor Will He Be Brown-Beaten or Hurried by the Opposition

London, Feb. 24.—In the house of commons today the opposition tried to obtain from Premier Asquith a disclosure of the concessions to be offered to Usher in the home rule bill by supporting a resolution introduced by Bertrand Russell, the Unionist member for Portsmouth. "That the house considers it imperative in the interests of public peace that the premier should submit his proposals without delay."

The prime minister refused to divulge his proposals, saying that the government was prepared to put forward its suggestions at a moment which they could be adequately considered by the house which would be before Easter. The government, he declared, had no reason to anticipate for a truce still less to hasten the bill of surrender. To the opposition he would say that the government was not going to betray a great cause at the eleventh hour. The opposition should understand that the government would not be brown-beaten or hurried into a compromise which, in its judgment, would not promote but embarrass the purpose of the men of all parties should keep in view.

The motion was defeated 311 to 216.

AS PROTEST AGAINST VIOLENCE BY POLICE

Militant Suffragette Sympathizers Object to Methods Used to Repress Lawlessness

London, Feb. 25.—Five prominent suffragettes were brought before the Bow street police court today, charged with obstructing the police during last night's demonstration in Finsbury Square, where they protested violently against Premier Asquith's refusal to receive them.

The prisoners were Laurence Newman, author and artist; Henry W. Newman, was counsel; Mrs. D. A. Thomas, H. D. Harben and Miss N. Haig.

The magistrate ordered them all to give bonds of $10 each to guarantee their good behavior for six months. The prisoners all refused to enter into bond.

In a speech from the prisoners' enclosure, Laurence Newman said: "I am here as a protest against the treatment of women political offenders. I shall continue to be present as long as I think it justified and necessary."

In the ordinary course, offenders refusing to give bonds remain in prison six months. Alfred Meynell, another prisoner, was charged with assaulting the police and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or go to prison for seven days.

IS APPOINTED SPEAKER.

Fredrick, M.P., Feb. 25.—W. H. Dickson, M.L.A. for Albert County, was the new speaker of the New Brunswick Legislature. Mr. Dickson has been a representative of Albert County since 1904. He has been chairman of the committee on agriculture and was deputy speaker last year.

Fashionable Restaurant Suffers Cancellation of License for Permitting What Col. Denison Describes as a Disreputable Affair—Forty Women Drunk

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 25.—McClenkey's license was cancelled for sixty days by Police Magistrate Denison this morning, as penance for what he described as a disreputable affair. The cancellation was made under section 81 of the License Act, which forbids the excessive conduct on his premises. Col. Denison, however, a second time, had decided the behavior was all that and more.

ONE OF THE BIG TRAILERS BEING INTRODUCED ON MONTREAL STREET CAR SYSTEM

For a long time Montreal has been experimenting with a new style of street car trailer, and the public as well as the company think it a huge success. The above picture shows the trailer the same size as the motor. The conductor lowers the step by means of a lever and in this way the car is loaded up as it were, thus preventing accidents from boarding cars in motion. This is the first time this experiment has been tried in Canada, but it is likely that other Canadian cities will follow Montreal if the new venture turns out as expected.

Becker to Apply for Back Salary
It is Now Considered Alleged They Likely He Will Be Freed.

New York, Feb. 25.—That the action of the court of appeals in granting Chas. Becker, former police lieutenant, a new trial means that he will never go to trial a second time on a charge of murder in connection with the killing of Herman Rosenthal was the first thing that came into the mind of the former lieutenant today in interviews today that he would certainly be freed after six months.

Alfred Meynell, another prisoner, was charged with assaulting the police and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or go to prison for seven days.

The whole thing was a disreputable affair," said he, "drunken revels which they call an orgy. In here were thirty or forty drunken women staggering out while two had to be parried. There was drunkenness and noise and riotous behavior, and a sort of conduct which should not be allowed in any respectable place."

Two waiters testified today they five put away four quarts, a happy couple had two. Others, however, were more moderate, one couple testing themselves with one wine glass, another couple with one couple half while sitting, while contempt, however, he said, "I am sure might be attributed to the slippery floor." A little kissing they saw, but no fighting.

"BACK TO BRICK" IS SLOGAN OF MAKERS OF CLAY PRODUCTS

Convention Hears Interesting Address at Session Held This Morning

BUILDERS HEAR OF THE ADVANTAGES OF CONCRETE

One Section of Builders' Convention Advocates Use of Brick, the Other Concrete

"Back to brick" is the slogan of the second annual convention of the Alberta Clay Products Manufacturers Association, now in session in the Edmonton Hotel and Glass building, on Fifth street.

The convention met yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the morning session was held at 10 o'clock. The Physical Properties of Clay, by W. E. Worster, professor in the college of ceramics of the University of Ohio, and now superintendent of the Trenton Clay Products Company, of Calgary, whose address is said to be the largest in the West.

During the discussion that followed the address, it was suggested that the importance of the clay products industry in Canada would be increased by the establishment of a course in ceramics at the provincial university.

Mr. Worster's address dealt with the behaviour of clays under varying conditions. In the afternoon, the methods adopted to test the absorption and shrinkage of various clays. "Thousands of dollars have been thrown away," he said, "in the analysis. Even when the chemical composition is known, it is impossible to decide, except by actual experiment, how clays will behave under the conditions of use."

By means of a series of small bricks, taken from the kiln at graduation temperatures, Mr. Worster illustrated the method of testing clays by the use of cones of known properties, placed close to the approach of the kiln.

Specimens of strange clays are ground, screened and watered to give a plastic mass, and the observations are then made of the shrinkage in the kiln, and also of the change in color and texture of the clay sample of clay exhibited.

Life caricatured the public and users of the clay products. He gave a brief history of the use of concrete, mentioning the use of the pyramids, the Roman roads, and the pools of King Solomon, since built from Jerusalem, and stated that after European engineers had studied the subject from a scientific standpoint, steel concrete buildings had begun to be recognized about the year 1850 as a structural possibility.

Speaking of the value of concrete construction in schools and institutional buildings, he said: "If the different conditions governing the construction of schools, hospitals, libraries, convicts, etc., are taken into consideration, the loss of life in semi-tight buildings, made of brick, is enormous. The concrete, these buildings would stand as monuments of their wisdom and foresight."

IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

ency of the trade problems that lay under the eyes and within the reach of Parliament and the Government, it would be better if there were no such commission.

Honourable Mr. Foster replied that, although the late Government had been pressed for action in regard to ocean freight rates and had, in 1910, addressed a memorandum to the British Government on the subject and received a favorable reply, they had taken no further action. Now they were demanding that the Government should wake up.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier answered that the inaction of the late Government during a period of fourteen months was not a sufficient excuse for inaction of the present Government, having the correspondence before them, during a further period of twenty-eight months.

Mr. Oliver said that the conditions which called for action in 1910 had been immensely accentuated since that date. The price of grain to the farmer had decreased 10 cents a bushel, according to the report of the Saskatchewan Grain Commission, while his cost of production had increased 10 per cent, or, say, five cents per bushel. On a marketable product of 150,000,000 bushels the farmer, and therefore the country, was over $20,000,000 worse off on an equal amount of crop in 1913 than in 1910. This should be sufficient to startle Parliament into consideration of the matter and the Government into action.

Diverting Traffic.

The Western farmer was not the only loser by reason of the shipping combine on the upper lakes. During the past season, of 135,000,000 bushels of grain shipped eastward from Fort William and Pt. Arthur, 77,000,000 went to United States ports and 58,000,000 to Canadian ports. The Canadian shipping combine had driven Canadian grain to United States ports.

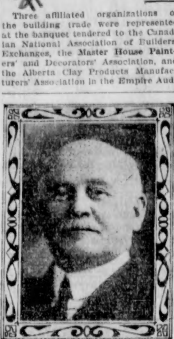

Since 1911 the world's price of wheat had been falling, while the cost of production and of marketing had been increasing. The result was that, while cultivation increased from two and one-half million acres in 1907 to seventeen million acres in 1911, it had rather decreased than increased since that date; and the demand for floursteads had fallen off by 9,000 in two years. These facts were reflected in present business conditions throughout Canada. And the only reply of the Government was that their professional office had not dealt with a condition that had not then existed.

Might Try the Theory.

Invite Your Attention

It is without the slightest hesitation that we make the statement that men's suits were never before as handsome as they are this season. It is quite natural that they should be so, for each year sees an improvement in the tailoring art—resulting in better draping, better fitting garments. And every person who has given the matter any attention knows that the fabrics for 1914 are the handsomest that have ever been produced. The clothing we are showing is manufactured by Canada's recognized leading manufacturers and is sold under a trade-marked guarantee and advertised name. We cannot use the name, however, because we sell them for less money than they are made to sell for. But you need only to see these clothes to realize that they are the products of the country's best tailoring art.

At $25.00 we have an extensive range of elegant patterns in all the best American models. One small suit is of tan homespun fabric. It's a dressy two-button style of notably distinctive character.

Some thing out of the ordinary is a rich, soft silk-like cashmere lined with good wearing silk. It's a deep blue with narrow white stripes. Trousers have cloth belt to match. The workmanship in this suit is the equal of the best custom tailoring. Price.....$30.00

Another $25.00 Suit is a grey and black diagonal striped hard finished worsted. A suit that will wear like leather and yet has style and snap enough to satisfy men who know the value of good clothes.

At the modest price of $20.00 we have a blue tweed with faint pin stripes—it is as fine a pattern as the season has produced. The coat is a three-piece, well tailored, correctly and will fit to perfection. It's a wonderful value.

IMAGO ON EYE OF MURDERED WOMAN MAY GET CONVICTION

AURORA, Ill., Feb. 24.—A remarkable photograph, one taken from the eye of the murdered Mrs. Helen on the retina of the image of the man who clubbed her to death in St. Nicholas Cemetery a week ago, may be seen, is held as an evidence by the accusers of Anthony Petras, State Attorney Thorne admitted today. The existence of this weird photograph has been kept a secret.

MALE SUFFRAGISTS PROTEST TO PREMIER

Aquith Will Not See Them But Accepts Written Message to His Secretary

LONDON, Feb. 24.—An independent body of non-militant suffragists, for the most part men, has been persistently trying to obtain a personal interview with Premier Aquith, but the only concession he would grant was permission for a small deputation to see his secretary so that their protest in writing accompanied by a large number of supporters and afterwards proceeded to restaurant square where a demonstration was held in protest against the Premier's attitude. Several hundred police were concealed in the neighborhood of Downing street in readiness for trouble and they dispersed the demonstrators after considerable hand-to-hand scuffling.
